Summary

Front-End and Certified Full-Stack Developer with a passion for learning. Solves every challenge from the perspective of a creative multi-hyphenate to find new and interesting solutions. Regards every block as a chance to learn and improve and thrives on the feeling of accomplishment at the end of a project. Balances a drive for perfection with an easy-going and friendly personality to work well in teams. Technology and media should be simple, effective, and sometimes a little surprising in order to keep people engaged.
